

HOLT FARM, SOMERSET BRETT MARTIN DAYLIGHT SYSTEMS

When the UK's number one organic dairy brand required a new rooflight system for a farm building housing more than 200 dairy cows, Brett Martin's Farmlite GRP rooflights rose to the challenge – providing high quality natural light that will help to improve internal living conditions and increase milk yields.

Located in a designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, the original fibre cement roof at Holt Farm was showing signs of deterioration whilst the rooflights were badly yellowing.

With only 25% of the entire roofing area available, due to the installation of solar panels, the Farmlite GRP system offered the perfect combination of long-term performance and even distribution of quality natural light whilst also meeting stringent animal welfare and environmental regulations
